WHEAT MAKES A GOOD GAIN

CLOSES NEARLY 2e HIGHER THAN FRIDAY'S FINAL FIGURES.

Strong Liverpool Market and Unfavorable Crop News the Bullish Factors-Corn and Oats Gained 1-4c Each.

The May condition for winter wheat shows a drop from April of 5 points.

Crop Expert Thoman thinks the government report Monday will probably make the May winter wheat condition 76, against, 81.4 last month. It would suggest a yield of 285,000,000 bushels, against 307,000,000 last month, and an indicated yield of 295,000,000 in May a year ago.

The exports of wheat and flour from both coasts of the United States and Canada in the forty-four weeks since July 1 amount to 129,652,865 bushels, against 106,335,000 bushels in the corresponding time a year ago, 125,001,000 bushels two years ago and 145,588,000 bushels three years ago.

Argentine wheat shipments past week were 24,000 bushels, and 822,000 bushels the week previous, and 822,000 bushels ayear ago. Shipments were 447,595 bushels; last year, 718,000 bushels. Corn receipts, 330,185 bushels; ayear ago, 252,000 bushels.

A San Francisco message to Chicago par. Chicago, May 8 .- Wheat to-day not only recovered the le decline of yesterday, but to be besides. A strong Liverpool market following yesterday's local weakness and exceedingly unfavorable crop reports created an almost unanimous desire to buy and the market was strong from the start. Corn and oats improved 1/4c. Provisions started well, but wound up with a slight Wheat was wanted at the opening at an advance of about 1/2c over yesterday's clos-ing price. The trouble was that for half an ing price. The trouble was that for half an hour everyone in the pit appeared anxious to buy and they had to continue bidding ke higher for every fresh lot. The shorts got the most of the limited offerings. They were hard to satisfy, however, for after keeping at it for half an hour, during which time July rose from 7% and 1% at the immediate opening to 7% c, and resting awhile, they recommenced, after 1/2 reaction, the result being that July rose in course of the next hour to 72% c. The reasons for the advance were numerous. The Michigan crop report made the condition for the state $2, as, compared with $7 a month ago and $2 May 1 last year. That and steadiness at Liverpool, where a decline had been looked for, were all that could be found at first to account for the buying which was going on. Later in the pession, when the people who had received dispatches from San Francisco began to show them around, the real substantial and justifiable cause of the eager buying was made plain. The previously promising appearance of California's growing crop had given place to a most telling change for the ways.

made plain. The previously promising appearance of California's growing crop had given place to a most telling change for the worse. Serious deterioration of a possible 69,090,000 bushel crop, in addition to the precarious position of winter wheat on this side of the Rockies, naturally aroused speculative sentiment of a bullish character. Later the market quieted down. At the advance considerable wheat which showed good profits was put on the market and by closing time a reaction to 72½c had taken place.

Corn opened steady, but turned strong in sympathy with the sharp advance in wheat, The trade was quiet, however, and the price kept within a %c range. July opened unchanged at 24%c, sold up steadily to 25c and closed at 24%c, sold up steadily to 25c and closed at 24%c, sold up steadily to 25c and closed at 24%c, sold up steadily to 25c and closed at 24%c, and up steadily to 25c and closed at 24%c, and up steadily to 25c and closed at 24%c, and up steadily to 25c and closed at 24%c, and prices held strong throughout the session. July started a shade higher at 17%c.

Provisions were dull and kept within a narrow range. The market ruled strong for a while, influenced by the improvement in the other speculative markets, but under more liberal offerings near the end, the slight advance was all lost. At the close, July pork was 2½c lower at $8.62\%c, July lard a shade lower at $4.67\%d. 3nd July ribs a shade lowe

New York, May 8 .- Considerable over a fourth of the dealings at to-day's short session of the Stock exchange were in Chicago Gas, and when the sales of Sugar were added about half of the total sales were accounted for. The dealings in Chicago Gas consisted for the most part of quite heavy realizing sales and the price suffered accordingly, although there was some recuperative power in the stock. The loss amounted to 1% and an accompanying drive at a number of the specialties constituted a pretty heavy drag on the market, which was well resisted in the case of the railways. sion of the Stock exchange were in Chi-

OHIO STRIKERS ENJOINED.

Receive a Knockout Blow at the Hands of Judge Sage, of the Federal Court. Cleveland, O., May 8 .- A knockout blow to the strikers of the Consolidated Steel Company was delivered by Judge Sage, of the United States circuit court, this mornthe United States circuit court, this morning. He allowed the temporary injunction against them to stand, at the conclusion of an exhaustive opinion. Judge Sage maintained that the proof was conclusive that vicience had been done the men in the employ of the company. He held that if the strikers were not actually engaged in vicient acts they were at least the ruling spirits of them. Furthermore, he said that the Rod Mill Workers' union was the fountain head of the trouble, and that it was clear that the strikers had interfered with the lawful rights of the company.

What Is Needed. "What is needed in municipal affairs," she said with the air of one who knew what she was talking about, "is a thorough cleaning up. There should be a woman in the city hall."

mitted.

"Pretty bad!" she exclaimed. "Why, the condition of affairs is positively shameful. There isn't a single man running the elevators who is dressed in blue and has either silver or gold braid on his coat or trousers. They are positively, disgustingly shabby, and there'd be a change in their appearance in about ten minutes after I took hold or—or—"

"Well?"
"Or I'd put bloomer girls in charge of the elevators."
"That might tend to popularize your ad-"That might tend to popularize your ad-ministration," he admitted thoughtfully, "provided you had all the mirrors taken out of the elevators so that they couldn't spend all their time fixing their back hair and bangs."

amo bangs.

She gave him a cold, hard look that again silenced him.

"In presiding over the council meetings," she continued, "I would absolutely refuse to recognize any alderman who was not attired in a dress suit or at the very least a black Prince Albert, and I would have cocoo, chocolate and lees served during the session. In a very short time, starting in this way, I think I would have the city hall in such a condition that a decent, respectable woman could enter it alone without fear and without the feeling that she would have to be fumigated as soon as she could get out. Then I would have time to attend to the minor affairs, such as finances, street cleaning and ordinances."

And he hadn't a word to say. In fact, he had a feeling that somehow man had fallen down in some features of municipal administration.—Chicago Post.

From the Detroit Free Press.

There is a man in the Hammond block who hates slang with an abiding hatred. He is an authority in the business world and is frequently called upon for advice. The other day a broker entered hurriedly. "I have a chance to go in with Blims on what looks like a gone deal," said the caller. "Is Blims a square man."

"No, sir. Mr. Blims is round as a marble and short and fat."

"You misunderstand me. Is Blims on the level?"

"Has his ups and downs, like the rest of us."

"Has his ups and downs, like the rest of us."

"Pshaw! You don't catch on. Is there anything crooked about Bilms?"

"He's straight as a ramrod. Used to be in the army, you know."

"Say, can't you get next? Does this man Bilms play fair, or is he always looking for the best of it?"

"Get next to what? play what? and get the best of what? You talk in riddles."

"Great Scott! Suppose I should tie up with Bilms and we were getting the hot can of it, would he duck, or take his gruel like a man? That's what I'm trying to find out."

"Weil, sir, you had better consult a clair-voyant. I can't attempt to deal with such a mixed-up proposition. If there's anything I can do for you, just please present your case in plain United States."

"Bellms honest?"

"Perfectly so. He was with me for ten years, and I found that he wouldn't even take so much as a joke."

Then the broker hastened back to his office and issued this verbal order: "There's to be no more slamp here, see? This is a new racket, and it goes. The first one that gets gay and makes a break gets the g. b. See?"

HOW A GOOD GRASS CROP AFFECTS THE MARKET.

Cattle Going Into the Indian Territory-Yesterday's Hog Sales-A Great Rush of Mexican Cattle Into This Country.

The rapid improvement of pastures and promise of a big grass crep has had a stimulating effect upon the stocker and feeder market the past week. Up to Friday 237 cars of stockers and feeders had been sent to the country, compared with 100 cars for the full corresponding week last year.

Many cattle are going into the Indian Territory from Texas for grazing. That means good receipts upon the market here at $3.65@3.72½; same day last year, $3.10@ 3.25. These figures would indicate properous times with hog men. Cattle, to-are selling much higher, from and to X. per cwt. As feed is as cheap now as last per cwt. As feed is as cheap now as last year, the beef, as well as hog men, are doing well, and the sheep season now closing has been most satisfactory.

The prospect of a big increase in the import duty on Mexican cattle in the near future caused an unprecedented rush of them into the States during April. The imports for April, as reported by Colonel Albert Dean, with Nogales, A. T., reported only up to April 21, were 63,885, against 14.228 the same month last year.

Yesterday was a nice day for fishing and a number of Sir Isanc Waiton's disciples at the yards hied themselves to Fail river, Kas. They carried with them lines and hate galore, but when evening came J. H. Lampe, Charles Mills, Fred H. Mann, M. J. Verner and Inspector Williams turned their faces homeward a dejected and tired set. They had a delightful day, but avoided saying anything about fish.

Montreal, May 8.—The cattle inspectors

Montreal, May 8.—The cattle inspectors at this port have been notified from Ottawa that the regulations regarding the shipment of cattle have been altered so that American cattle can be shipped from Canadian ports in a space of two feet, six inches, whereas the steamships are required to provide space of two feet eight inches for each Canadian beast. The space for American cattle has been quoted by brokers at 47s 6d, whereas the prevailing rate for Canadian is 50s.

EATEN BY CANNIBALS.

Young Englishman and an Ex-Missionary Have a Somewhat Unvate advices, F. M. B. Litchenberg, a young Englishman who arrived in this city about two years ago and left a year later, has met a horrible fate at the hands of cannibals in the South sea islands. He, with another man, was taken prisoner, killed and eaten by the tribes of the islands. Litchenberg went directly from Astoria, together with an ex-missionary whose name is not known, to trade with the natives of the Santa Cruz islands, which have a pop-ulation of about 30,000. The ex-missionary had traded with them before, and had been among them in his religious capacity and entertained no fears for the safety of him-self and companion. The men, says the letter, procured traders' outfits and set sail from Australia for the islands. The sail from Australia for the islands. The natives, who are reputed to be more ferocious than any of the African tribes, captured them and held them for some time.

Later, they were killed and eaten. The story gained circulation through a half civilized native who witnessed the feast.
